WILDCAT KILLED IN RABBIT HUNT

Over 3,000 Bunnies Bagged by Party of 150 at Juab.

One of the largest and most successful rabbit hunts of the season was held at Juab yesterday on the Salt Lake route. About 150 hunters joined the party and the net result of about six hours' hunting was fully 3,000 bunnies. The party left Salt Lake shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning and got home about 9 o'clock last night and every man in the party had rabbits to take home and plenty to give to friends.

Not an accident marred the day's sport. One of the hunters imbibed too freely on his way down, but was promptly taken care of in a manner which added to the safety of the party but was hard on the drunk. His gun was taken away from him and upon arrival at the hunting grounds he was placed in a wagon, hauled out about three miles from the railroad and dumped in the snow. By the time he walked back he was sober, and all danger of his doing damage by the foolish handling of a loaded gun was off for the day.

The party bagged a large wildcat on the expedition which was skinned and brought home as a trophy of the hunt. It is claimed that it was one of the largest ever killed around Juab.

Just before the arrival at the hunting grounds the party was dropped off from the train in squads. These were distributed about a mile apart, the last squad getting off the cars at Juab. This system allowed the hunters to cover a large territory and as a result everybody got plenty of shooting. About three inches of snow made the best possible conditions for driving rabbits and some of the hunters who were lucky in getting the best locations killed as high as fifty.

Arrangements were made with the farmers to furnish the wagons free of charge and in return the farmers were given the ears of every rabbit killed, upon which they can collect a bounty of 5 cents each. The party report rabbits as very plentiful and another expedition may be formed.

STOVALL WITH LOUISVILLE

Former Local Player Has Signed Up to Manage Kentucky Team.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 2.—Jesse Stovall, the hard-hitting outfielder, sent in his signed contract to the management of the Louisville baseball club today. He said that he is satisfied with the terms and will be on hand for the spring preliminaries. Stovall has been playing with the San Diego team in the California league, pitching once a week and working in the outfield the rest of the time. He writes that he has allowed for the season, and has been hitting better than .307.

Jesse Stovall is a former P. N. league player who was with McCloskey on the San Francisco team and who pitched for McCloskey while that team was in Salt Lake. Stovall left San Francisco for Cleveland, where he twirled in the American league and later went to Detroit.

The cars were given the people a good time as they went down the coast.

JOE GANS TAKES BACK TITLE.

(By Tad.)
New York, Jan. 29.—Joe Gans took his title back again. It came back to him, if you want to look at it this way.
A sport on Broadway last night says that Joe took it back so that he could get it back. He lost it to Unholz. Now, if Nelson should beat Unholz he would naturally be the lightweight champion. Rather than have the Dane champion, this sport argues that Joe took the title back.
Queer thing, this handing around of titles.

WHY?

The following well-known gentlemen of this city have purchased Pierce Great Arrow motor cars:
P. J. Moran, Ezra Thompson, Samuel Newhouse, D. E. Purley, Col. E. A. Wall, George W. Kears, F. C. Schramm, Walter G. Piler, W. M. Bransford, D. MacVieche, Walker Bros., V. D. Spalding, Albert Fisher, C. A. Molen, S. A. Whitney, C. H. Tyree.

Because they wanted the very best. A car that has proven under the severest service. They knew the Pierce Great Arrow represented the best in automobile construction, and has always stood in the eyes of authorities, AS THE HIGHEST GRADE MOTOR CAR MADE IN AMERICA. A demonstration will convince you.

HEAGREN BACK FROM COAST

Sees Many Local Bike Riders, Who Are All Doing Well.

Harry Heagren, former manager of the Salt Palace saucer track, returned yesterday from a long trip on the coast. Heagren's trip was one of business altogether, but he had time to look up some of the local bike riders now on the coast. While away he saw Demara, Marner, Schnell, Hollister, McCormack and Holman, all of whom rode as amateurs, excepting Hollister. Heagren reports that all of the boys are working at their trades, except Demara. The latter has invented a new kind of "cycle thrill," which is made up of a large steel globe. Demara rides on the inside of this, doing all kinds of stunts, and has made quite a hit on the vaudeville stage. Harry says he is making good money with it. Many of the boys say they will return to Salt Lake this summer to ride if conditions look bright enough.

RESULTS AT LOCAL TRAPS

Daughter of William Crosby, World's Champion, Is Among the Visitors.

Good shooting weather brought out a fair-sized crowd of shooters at the local traps yesterday morning. John Bick with 55 out of 100 and 46 out of 50, did the best work. Miss Crosby of O'Fallon, Ill., who is a daughter of William Crosby, the world's champion trap shooter, was a visitor at the traps. She is visiting Mrs. John Bick of this city and is quite a trap shooting fan, who has taken a great opportunity to see the sport of which her father is the acknowledged champion.

Lemoine announced that he would prosecute Wermer in the English courts for swindling.

WORKING ON NEW OPERA.

Rome, Feb. 2.—Giacomo Puccini, the composer, has received the libretto of "The Girl of the Golden West," written around David Belasco's play of the same name. Signor Puccini says that he will begin composing the score immediately and will not stop until the opera is finished and ready for its first presentation in New York. Despite denials to the contrary, Signor Puccini thinks that Arturo Toscanini, director of the orchestra at Scala, Milan, has been engaged as the successor of Heinrich Conried, director of the Metropolitan opera house in New York.

FUNERAL TUESDAY.

Missoula, Mont., Feb. 2.—The funeral of the late Harry O. Collins, former editor of the Missoulian, will be held in this city Tuesday afternoon.

NELSON CERTAIN; SO IS UNHOLZ

Both Men in Great Condition for Ten-Round Battle Tomorrow.

Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—The real article of fight fan, the type of Queensberry follower who makes it his duty to visit the rival training camps as religiously as a race track fanatic did elbows his way through the crowded betting ring, is very much at sea these days, and before next Tuesday night probably will be seeking relief among the various "fortune telling" booths which line Main street.

Ten the last ten days the fans have alternated between the Nelson and Unholz camps, listening first to the latter's declarations of war, and then turning to the ante-bellum statements of the Boer, who goes into detail to describe just what he is going to do and the Nelson person. The Dane says he will win with ease, that Unholz can't get a look-in. Unholz claims that he will batter Nelson down and out before the ten rounds are over. There you are—pay your money and take your choice. Certain it will be a perfect condition as conscientious training can put them, and that any way you look at it, the fight will be a real one. A fair chance of getting a long, hard run for their admittance fees.

Nelson did not boxing or gymnasium work at all yesterday. In the morning the Battler, with Eddie Kelly to keep him company, took a long walk in the morning. The Dane wore his famous red shirt, and when he returned to the hotel he was in a very good condition. Kelly's quiet smile quivered the game.

AMUSEMENTS.

Something different from the ordinary run of melodramas is "A Wicked Woman," which opened at the Grand last night with Miss Josephine Deffry in the title role. The manner in which the play was received by an audience that packed the playhouse leaves no doubt as to the pleasing qualities of the piece. Miss Deffry is a very capable, and who handled the small parts assigned them in a very acceptable manner. One very noticeable improvement last night was the scenery and stage furnishings, all of which appeared new and did not have the "stagey" look so common to the old plays.

The story of "A Wicked Woman" deals with life in Rome among the society elite. The play is a very good one, and the marriage code was in vogue, and the attempts of Stephanie De Mohrivate, a notorious gambling house proprietor, to entrap the society of the upper classes, the various methods by which she seeks to accomplish her aim furnish the nucleus of the play. The scenery is very attractive and instructive. Miss Deffry, who portrays the character of Stephanie De Mohrivate, is admirably cast for the role, her natural appearance and general bearing all assisting in carrying out the effect of her acting.

Everything is now ready for the Press club's "Tom Show," which will be given at the Salt Lake theater this evening. The show is a very good one, and the success of which dispelled the last remaining fear of the stage manager of the theater. For the single performance that will be given, the theater has been pretty well sold out. Few seats are left, except the balcony, and the show will contain many theater parties tonight.

Tonight the famous Orpheum road show opens a week's engagement at the Orpheum. There are seven acts of advanced vaudeville, besides the orchestra and kinodrome pictures. The entire show has arrived, so there will be no delay or substitution.

PADEREWSKI, MAN AND MUSICIAN.

Paderewski is a living and distinguished refutation of the very common held belief that a musician can be only a musician and nothing else. Whether or not the conductor of an orchestra work necessary to prepare a musician for a successful career it is astonishing that one can know anything or have any interests outside of his art. After the long, dreary work of preparing to perform, so that in no art or profession is a man so tied down to his work as in music.

Consequently it is true that many musicians, many great musicians, perhaps the great majority, have little interest in anything outside of the art they practice, but now and then a man is found and it is almost inevitably true that he is a master of his art.

Paderewski is a man of extraordinarily broad culture and wide interests. Nothing human is stranger to him. Nothing which goes to make life is too insignificant for him to take interest in. It is not merely a question of the kindred arts of literature, painting and sculpture with him. He is a keen and appreciative judge of them all, and in all of them is capable of speaking with the voice of authority. But he delights, too, in the more practical aspects of life. For example, he himself is a practical farmer, farming on a large scale in Galicia (Austrian Poland) and on a smaller but more scientific scale in Swedenland, his estate of Riond Bosson. For several years the admittedly finest hotel in Europe, the Bristol in Warsaw, was his, and only the newest hotels in Paris and London now equal La Paderewski. He has built after his own plans, and his plans were based largely on what he had learned concerning hotels in America. In fact, the entire plumbing of the establishment is American, and it set a pace for the rest of Europe.

He has been a considerable investor in this country, especially in real estate. The list of cities and towns in

SOME DOUBT ABOUT GROUNDHOG'S HOURS OF MAKING OBSERVATIONS

There is some doubt as to whether the ground hog saw his shadow yesterday or not. It all depends upon the ground hog's hours. The ground hog had plenty of opportunity to come out of his hole and see his shadow, if he had wanted the right time, but if he didn't, his shadow was not cast. According to the record at the weather bureau there was sunshine yesterday, but the ground hog was not out and continued until 3:25. It arose at 7:28 and set at 5:46.

The ground hog made his appearance for his annual observation before half of 10 o'clock he made up his mind to see his shadow, if he had wanted the right time, but if he didn't, his shadow was not cast. According to the record at the weather bureau there was sunshine yesterday, but the ground hog was not out and continued until 3:25. It arose at 7:28 and set at 5:46.

Maximum temperature, 30 degrees; minimum temperature, 14 degrees; mean temperature, 16 degrees, which is 8 degrees below normal. Accumulated deficiency of temperature since the first of the month, 29 degrees; accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 56 degrees. Relative humidity, 78. Total precipitation, 2.9 in. to 6 p. m., 0.6 inch; accumulated deficiency of precipitation since the first of the month, 10 inch; accumulated deficiency of precipitation since January 1, 32 inch.

which he owns "corner lots" which he picked out himself would astonish those who listen to him pick and regard him merely as a great pianist. He is extraordinarily far-seeing in such things. The story is told—and it is true—that on one of his early trips to this country he visited a southern town, where he lay near a newly developed iron belt. As soon as he got there he took a carriage, called on the mayor and discussed the future of the town. Convicted that that would be a good investment, he instructed his secretary to purchase a certain number of lots in a then outlying district. His secretary thought he knew best and quietly ignored the instructions. That was one of the first things he did was to find out the value of that property. It had increased nearly ten-fold, and the distinguished pianist has not yet recovered from the shock. It was not so much the money, for the amount to be invested was only a trifle of a few hundred dollars, but it was the thought that he had not realized the advantage of his own judgment.

Paderewski is, of course, ardently patriotic as a Pole, and his relations with the Russian government have not always been the pleasantest. When he was a boy of 3 he saw his father start on the long march of exile to Siberia, and a few years later saw him return a broken man. He takes the keenest interest in what the Germans call Welt-politik. He enjoys the friendship of many of the foremost statesmen of Europe, and for few men are better able to discuss the great problems of the day.

Paderewski is a great admirer of and believer in this country, and saying that which comes from his heart, "I love dear America" of the usual visiting artist. Few men are better posted on the internal affairs of this country, and few can make a juster estimate of our public men and their policies.

Under whatever conditions one meets the great pianist, the lasting impression is that which comes from his extraordinary mental power. His ability to grasp any problem and get down directly to its kernel, his logical modes of thought, his directness and honesty of purpose, these are most unusual qualities to find in a man in whom poetry and imagination are so strongly developed. In other words, Paderewski seems to be the complete man, armed at all points for contact with the world in all its relations. All these qualities mutually strengthen each other, and it is this strength, doubtless, that has made the supreme artist of his time.

BUCKLEY GOES ON A TEAR

Tries to Terrorize Franklin Avenue and Is Arrested After Firing Fusillade of Shots.

Nelson Buckley, colored, started out in his early hours yesterday morning to terrorize Franklin avenue. Nelson is now in the city jail, charged with disturbing the peace.

With a loaded revolver Buckley began to promenade the street, starting at the Second South street entrance. He loudly proclaimed that he was making a situation and threatened anyone with instant death who dared to show his head. He fired a shot which was a fusillade of shots. They were fired into the air, however, and did no damage. An officer appeared and put an end to Buckley's air performance by locking him up. He will be heard by Judge Diehl this morning.

The Chicago police arrested a man named Feinberg upon information furnished by Chief Pitt. A picture of the suspect was secured and when it arrived here Salmanson and others who knew him were not positive that the right man had been caught. A large number of these who knew the clerk looked at the photograph yesterday, but none was positive in his identification.
